

Chemistry Talks

February, 2021

India celebrates the “National Science Day” on 28th February to mark the discovery of the Raman effect by Sir C. V. Raman. On this occasion, the Department of Chemistry, Indian Institute of Technology Indore is organizing Chemistry Talks.

In the month of February, chemistry based talks from several eminent speakers from the world has been scheduled.

Chemistry Talks aim to provide a platform for eminent chemists from all over the world to share and discuss wider aspects of the domain of chemical sciences with interface of the frontier areas of chemistry, biology and materials.

This webinar is expected provide an unique opportunity to establish new and ever-lasting bonding between the researchers. In particular, this webinar is going to benefit the research scholars and young students, and encourage them to explore newer ways to understand chemistry and chemical research.
